Washington—All is not well in Iowa and the dreams of harmony in the Republican party there have not matu-alized. This circumstance has a bearing on the general political situation for if Iowa has had the courage to republic the Brookhart faction of the Republican party as is apparent in the nomination of a staunch supporter of the late Senator Cummins, the possibilities of a close election for the long term cannot be minimized.

It is true that the Iowa Republican convention meeting so soon after the death of Senator Cummins was moved by sentimental considerations in selecting a follower of Cummins wing of the party to fill out the term which will expire on March 4 next. But the effect on the so-called treaty of peace could not have failed to receive consideration on the part of the sponsors of the movement. When the regulars told they were strong enough to do in the last few hours what they desired to do when the last convention was held, it was apparent that a change has come. Many people here have refused to believe that any true rally was in effect at any time and that the forces of harmony were not well founded. The nomination of Colonel

Stewart to succeed Senator Cummins for the short term is considered probably that there never was a true reconciliation between the opposing camps.

The decision the Democrats not to nominate a man to oppose Colonel

Stewart for the short term is looked upon here as a bit of strategy which may assist the Democrats in advancing the fortunes of Claude Porter against Senator Brookhart in the contest for the long term which runs from next March 4. It is assumed that the Brookhart forces may not be content to let Colonel Stewart have the short term, unopposed, and they will send an independent candidate into the race. If they do this will widen the breach and may produce a resentment against Colonel Stewart which could be reflected in the millions of Republican votes for Claude

Porter. It will be recalled that regular Republican votes cast for the democratic nominee, Daniel W. Steck, were responsible for the presence of a Democrat in the United States senate from Iowa for the first time in generations.

From the viewpoint of the administration the shift in Iowa politics is stitution is Iowa. The heart of the INQUIRY TAKES NEW TURN IN MURDER CASE

Question People Who Were
First on Spot After Hall-
Mills Slaying

Somerville, N. J.—(AP)—Questioning the reopened Hall Mills murder investigation took a new turn Monday with the apparent decision of state police to build a new theory of what took place on the night in September, 1922, when the Rev. Edward

Whelan Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills

one of his choiristers were slain.

The first persons at the spot where the bodies were found and other preliminary witnesses were brought in for questioning Monday. They included:

Operators of a trolley car, which took Mrs. Mills to Buccleuch park where it is believed she met the minister; two women who were standing at the end of the car line when Mrs.

Mills alighted.

Edward Stryker and his niece Mrs.

Grace Edwards living near the Phillips farm where the bodies were found under a crab apple tree. Mrs.

Edwards completed the telephone call when Raymond Schneider who found the bodies, broke down while attempting to notify police; Mrs. A. E. Frehigh living near the scene and who in the first investigation told of hearing

shots while sitting on her front porch.

KILLED IN ROW

Sheriff and Dry Agent Shoot

Each Other as Result of

Five Year Quarrel

Clinton, Virginia—(AP)—A sheriff

and a state prohibition agent are dead

here Monday as the result of a revolver duel on the steps of the Dickenson court house which came as the climax of a 5 year disagreement over a land deal that had been fanned away by an argument over the recent Virginia primary.

C. Priddy Moore Fleming, Dickenson

sheriff, died soon after the duel with a bullet near his heart. James S. Mullins, the dry agent, succumbed Sunday night from three wounds.

A group of villagers, gathered on the courthouse steps for their usual evening talk were ordered away by the sheriff. All but Mullins obeyed, and witnesses said the sheriff opened fire on the agent, who had only one arm.

Mullins retreated up the steps, endeavoring to draw his revolver. He sought protection behind a stone column, but was struck in the abdomen, arm and face. Fleming turned and walked away, and witnesses said that tered the priestless Catholic churches for prayers. Tranquility prevailed everywhere at the commencement of the second week of the deadlock on the religious situation between the Catholic church and the government.

No disorders were reported from any part of the republic.

Monday the Catholic episcopate which withdrew the priests from the churches suspended services in them as a protest against the government's religious regulations, gave no signs of abandoning its passive opposition. The government on its part with equal firmness maintained that it must enforce the constitution of the country.

With regard to Protestant churches

it is explained that the government in announcing that it would enforce the law as it applies to all churches

does not mean that the government will immediately seize or convert Protestant church property to its own use, but will reserve the right to do so in the future under the contention that all church property belongs to the nation.

CAL RETURNS TO

WHITE PINE CAMP

President and Mrs. Coolidge

Conclude Visit at Boyhood

Home in Plymouth

Plymouth, Vt.—(AP)—The President and Mrs. Coolidge left here Monday

for White Pine camp at Paul Smiths,

New York.

Concluding a four day visit to the boyhood home of the President they departed by automobile soon after 8 o'clock in the morning for Ludlow 12 miles away to board a special train which will take them again into the Adirondacks.

The visit at the Coolidge homestead gave Mr. Coolidge opportunity to renew old ties. To inspect his farm of 275 acres which is managed by Lynn Cady, a native farmer and to see the grave of their son, Calvin, Jr., in the little hillside cemetery not far from the house. The removal of old ties was emphasized many times during the visit.

Returning to the Adirondacks, the President and Mrs. Coolidge are to resume their life at White Pine camp, where Chief Justice Arthur P. Russell, living near the scene and who in the first investigation told of hearing

shots while sitting on her front

porch.

Officials Deny Finding

LORD KITCHENER'S BODY

London—(AP)—Official denial of the reported finding of Lord Kitchener's body on the shores of Scandinavia and its interment there is given in a report on the loss of the cruiser

Hampshire of the Orkneys in 1915 is-ued Monday as a white paper.

The paper goes lengthily into the details of the sinking of the Hampshire, and as has been officially done many times before denies that she was lost through treachery.

It has been conclusively proved the paper says that the vessel went down after striking one or more German mines.

The stories that Lord Kitchener

"got away from the ship and that he reached shore are purely imaginary," it continues.

SEEK MAN FOR CLEW

TO WOMAN'S DEATH

Chicago—Police searched Monday for a man who took the body of Beatrice Weeks, 28, mother of three chilren to a hospital in his automobile and upon being informed she was dead disappeared, stating he would be "right back as soon as I tell her mother."

Mrs. Weeks' mother told her mother that she intended to go to a movie. This was at 8 o'clock Saturday night. Two hours after the stranger appeared at the hospital with her body. He said she had fainted while he was repairing a tire.

She was identified by papers in her purse. Her husband who verified the identification was unable to throw any light on the mystery surrounding her death.

A coroner's physician said death resulted from a heart attack.

"Mystery Wave" Engulfs
Holiday Crowd Swimming
Near Buffalo, N. Y.

Buffalo, N. Y.—(AP)—Ten lives

appear to have been the toll exacted

by the "mystery wave" which swept Brant and Farnham beaches Sunday.

Seven bodies have been recovered and five other bathers are missing of the scores swept from their feet

when the giant comber suddenly rolled in from Lake Erie and engulfed the holiday crowds.

No plausible theory of the vicitation has been advanced other than it may have been the aftermath of some recent lake storm. Some of the bathers caught in its grip described it as a "tidal wave" against which the strongest swimmers were powerless and many of those who had taken advantage of the warm holiday to seek the beaches, could not swim

a stroke.

Almost unnoticed the great wall of water surged forward through the ranks of the bathers and then back again in a relentless "undertow" which carried dozens out of their depths.

There were numerous rescues and numerous unsuccessful attempts to answer screams for help or reach the wildly thrashing arm of a helpless victim. At least one man, Helme

Carstens lost his life when he returned to the lake after bringing one girl ashore. He disappeared far out, and hours later his body was washed in.

LENROOT WILL SPEAK IN CITY WEDNESDAY EVE

Address Here Will Be Only Appearance of Senator in County

Senator Irvine L. Lenroot will make his only campaign appearance in Outagamie county at Lawrence Memorial chapel here Wednesday evening. On Monday he took his first day off from speaking, since he began his strenuous campaign tour four weeks ago. Although he made no day speeches, he spent a busy day receiving supporters and planning the balance of his campaign.

Senator Lenroot will speak at Baraboo Monday night and at Wausau Tuesday night. The senator Wisconsin senator Monday exuded confidence. Reports from all parts of the state presaged victory, he said. His speech at Baraboo will be the 136th of his campaign.

Senator Lenroot said he is in excellent physical condition. His next four weeks will be spent in the populous sections of the state. He will make his first speech for the radio at Milwaukee Thursday evening.

Senator Lenroot Monday awaited the answer of Governor Blaine to Lenroot's question at Westfield Saturday night as to Blaine's stand on the proposal which the governor supported two years ago, which would allow congress to reenact laws held unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court.

If Governor Blaine still supports this position, "then he is willing that the right of religious freedom and all other rights guaranteed by the constitution shall no longer be protected but the Supreme Court, by the supreme court, but shall be placed in congress, with congress having the right to destroy it," Senator Lenroot said at Westfield.

"Governor Blaine has been asking me some questions at long range, being unwilling to meet me on the same platform," Senator Lenroot said at Westfield, "but I have answered him and Monday I wish to ask him one."

"Governor Blaine, do you still support the plank of the platform which you supported two years ago and which reads as follows:

"We favor submitting to the people for their consideration judgment a Constitutional amendment providing that Congress may be reenacting a statute made it effective over a judicial veto."

"I assume the governor still supports this plank for I find in his announcement in this campaign he condemns the Supreme Court of the United States for setting aside the decisions of State Courts."

Union trainmen all along the route gave Shep a helping hand, and now he's a mascot of the Greenville Typo Union.

PARENTS VISIT GIRLS AT CAMP

Sunday Is Visitors Day at Camp Onaway, Waupaca, for Mothers, Fathers

About 30 parents spent Sunday at Camp Onaway, Onaway island, Waupaca, visiting their daughters who are camping there. Sunday was set aside as visitors day, and all fathers, mothers and friends of the girls were invited to the island. A chicken dinner was served at noon. The girls maintained their regular schedule to show the parents what their daily life at camp consisted of.

Twenty girls went to Onaway Saturday by special bus to spend the last week at camp. Some of the girls who had spent the first week there returned the same day. Most of them are remaining for the entire period of two weeks, however. The camp will close Saturday.

Friday afternoon about 40 girls went on the Beasley river trip, which is a part of the regular program. This trip is always well attended because the scenery is beautiful. The first part of the trip was made by motor boat and the last half by rowboat.

At the end of the trip a campfire was built and the girls enjoyed a marshmallow roast. They returned to camp in time for the evening meal.

A masked ball took the place of the regular campfire program Friday evening. The ball was held in the mess hall and first prize was awarded to Mrs. "Ma" Dick, camp cook, who dressed as a little girl. Second place was voted to Margorie Feivel, who dressed as Little Lord Fauntleroy, and third place went to Janice Reese, who was dressed as a tramp.

The nature class, under the direction of Miss Mary Morton, has started a flower garden, and is transplanting many wild flowers, ferns and plants.

PRIZES ARE AWARDED BIBLE SCHOOL STUDENTS

Prizes for excellent scholarship and fine work were awarded to students of the Daily Vacation Bible school of First Methodist church at a program and exhibit Monday afternoon in the church gymnasium. The program marked the closing of the school, which has been in session since July 19.

Prizes were not awarded entirely on the basis of the most finished work according to Miss Esther Miller who was in charge, but application, neat handwriting, courtesy in class and general attitude throughout the school were also considered.

Manual training awards were given to Clarence Reuss, Allan Bro, James Whitman, Beverly Grunert and Jack Feavel. Basketry prizes were awarded to Jerome Watts, Walter Wright, Stanley Zahrt, Betty and Billy Laht and Ben Seaborn. Sewing prizes were won by Fay Kray and Ruth Lietz.

Archbishop Says Missionary Workers Depend Entirely on Donations

"The only means of existence missionary workers on Simla island have is from donations received from parish in the United States," said Very Rev. Archbishop Anselm Kenaley of Simla Island, India, in an address to members of the Holy Name society of St. Joseph church Sunday morning.

About 350 members of the society attended communion in a body at the 8 o'clock mass and had breakfast at St. Joseph hall immediately after the service. Archbishop Kenaley gave a short talk during the mass and also addressed members at breakfast.

Community singing was held during the service led by Henry Tillman. Archbishop Kenaley came to the United States to attend the Eucharistic Congress at Chicago in June and has been in this country since that time. He told of the conditions on Simla Island and also of the natives of the island and the missionary work that is being done there.

A collection was taken up at all masses at St. Joseph church Sunday and was presented to Archbishop Kenaley to be used in missionary work.

Plans for a membership drive was made at the meeting. A committee, with Leo Rechner as chairman, was appointed to take charge of the drive. Other members of the committee are Louis Schweitzer, Joseph Weber, Edward Kamps and Edward Alesch. It is expected that about 200 new members will be secured. They will be received into the society at a special reception in October. A capable lecturer is to make an address at the reception.

FRENCH KISS OMITTED AT PRESENTATION OF MEDAL

Paris—(AP)—The kiss that accompanied a medal in France, was temporarily omitted recently when M. George Leygues, minister of the navy, decorated Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney at St. Nazaire on the day that her monument commemorating the first arrival of American troops in France during the war was inaugurated.

"Why so?" the minister was asked afterwards by Ambassador Herrick who has become sufficiently acclimated to speak in this city Saturday evening, Aug. 14, under the league's auspices. It was announced. The talks will be given at Soldiers Square.

The Farmer Labor Progressive league represents the organized efforts of the local Progressives. An active campaign has been outlined. Definite plans for the work to be carried on will be formulated by the campaign committee consisting of the officers of the organization and the executive committee.

Unalakleet, Alaska—(AP)—More than 100 years ago a small white flower of the Aleutian group, was found here. During the last century botanists vainly searched for it. This summer the second specimen was obtained here by Professor George Hales of St. Ignace college, San Francisco.

The bloom was first reported by a Frenchman who accompanied a party known as the Klitzbeue expedition to this island in 1815-19. Five other parties came to hunt for it and left empty handed.

Unalakleet, Alaska—(AP)—More than 100 years ago a small white flower of the Aleutian group, was found here. During the last century botanists vainly searched for it. This summer the second specimen was obtained here by Professor George Hales of St. Ignace college, San Francisco.

The bloom was first reported by a Frenchman who accompanied a party known as the Klitzbeue expedition to this island in 1815-19. Five other parties came to hunt for it and left empty handed.

BLAINE PRINCIPLES

It is amusing, the artifices politicians will employ to get votes. Mr. Blaine is now telling the people what Wisconsin has done, and by inference what he has done, to stamp out bovine tuberculosis. What are the facts? Wisconsin started out to make the tuberculin test of its cattle on a somewhat experimental scale. When it became evident that Chicago was going to put an embargo on all milk not tuberculin tested, the last legislature was urged by the supporters of the tuberculin test to make an additional and sufficient appropriation to complete the test. This the Blaine administration refused to do, and the appropriations were reduced to a point where it was clear there would not be enough funds to carry on the work except in a limited manner. When Chicago did actually exclude untested milk, the tuberculin test was not half completed and the governor was forced to call an extra session of the legislature, at great expense to the taxpayers and delay to cattle-owners, to provide further funds. As a matter of fact, the test is only about half completed now. This is what Mr. Blaine calls "a great record" in the eradication of bovine tuberculosis.

Equally good is the fight the Blaine ring is making on the world court. Both Blaine and young La Follette are denouncing American adherence to the world court as an anti-Progressive act, when Senator Wheeler, who ran on the Progressive presidential ticket with La Follette two years ago, voted for the court, as did four Wisconsin Progressive congressmen, including Representative Schneider of this district. Mr. Blaine has asserted that the world court is a major issue in this campaign. Of course it is not, for it is not an issue anywhere, but the voters are entitled to take him at his word. Not only is he afraid to debate the issue with Senator Lenroot, but he is guilty of the grossest inconsistency in his attacks on the court and those who support it. He tells the people to retire Mr. Lenroot because he voted for the court, and he tells them to reelect Representative Schneider and three other Progressive congressmen of this state who also voted for the court. Where is the sense or honesty in that?

Young La Follette does the same. The other night at a meeting in Keweenaw, after flaying the court and telling his audience in effect that a man who voted for the world court was a dangerous public servant and ought never to be reelected to office, referring specifically to Mr. Lenroot, he had the audacity to turn around and ask the voters to support Congressman Schneider for reelection. Reminded by one of the audience that Schneider had voted for the world court, young La Follette was non-plussed, but reiterated his approval of the congressman, court or no court. What sort of principle or consistency is this? Of course it is nothing of either. The world court issue is being used to catch votes with, on the theory it is unpopular because a handful of extremists on foreign policy opposed it in congress, the facts being that quite as many Progressives supported the court as opposed it. It is a case of anything to beat Lenroot.

Similarly, on questions of taxation the Blaine machine is equally unscrupulous. It denounces the federal government for extravagance and high taxes, when every child in the country knows if there is one thing above all others the Coolidge administration will be distinguished for it is its program of economy. It has already reduced expenditures by several billion dollars and has lowered taxes three times, to the benefit of all classes of taxpayers, this year alone removing several hundred thousand small taxpayers from the rolls entirely. And on top of this the Blaine machine has the effrontery to tell the people it reduced taxes in Wisconsin, whereas all they have to do is to examine their tax receipts of this year and compare them with the receipts of last year to know that this is pure fabrication, the facts being that the state administration has been notoriously extravagant, has economized nothing and has increased taxes all along the line.

If the Blaine ring has principles of any sort we have failed thus far to detect what they are. If the people find any they must be endowed with remarkable faculties of discovery. We do not believe that ever before was there so glaring an attempt made to deceive the voters as in this campaign.

TO TAX BOOTLEGGER TO DEATH

Taxes provided for in the revenue laws and the prohibition measure, but which have heretofore been assessed and collected in a haphazard manner, are to be rigidly assessed and collected in a new drive to make prohibition effective and to put the bootlegger out of business. The provision which will strike the hardest blow is Section 701 of the 1926 revenue law authorizing a tax of $1,000 on any person carrying on the business of a brewer, a distiller, wholesale liquor dealer, wholesale dealer in malt liquor, retail dealer in or manufacture of stills in any state, territory, or district of the United States contrary to the laws of such state, territory or district. This means that every bootlegger caught by the prohibition agents and found guilty of making or selling liquor will be assessed a flat penalty of $1,000 in addition to such other punishment as the courts may give him. The tax of $6.40 a barrel on alcohol diverted to the manufacture of whiskey and $6 a barrel on beer containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol will also be enforced.

To insure the assessment and collection of these taxes, they will be collected by the federal courts instead of being a mere routine of the prohibition unit as they have been in the past and 62 additional assistants have been employed to make the assessments.

The regulations are designed literally to tax the bootlegger out of existence, and, properly enforced, should go far toward accomplishing that end. The prohibition unit had not adequate machinery for their proper assessments and collections. General Lincoln C. Andrews informed the house appropriation committee that there were more than 150,000 cases piled up in his office of uncollected tax assessments against makers and peddlers of liquor. The failure to collect has not only made the provisions ineffective, but has emboldened offenders to further violations. It is time all possible measures were taken to enforce the law.

TODAY'S POEM

By HAL COCHRAN

"Aw, let me wash my hands and face," said Little Jimmy White. "I'm much too old for you to wash 'em. I kin do it right." So mother sorta hesitates. She has but little hope, yet finally says, "Go right ahead—and use a lot of soap."

Then Jimmy in the wash room goes, and softly shuts the door, so mom can't hear the water he'll have splashin' on the floor. Perhaps his real intention is to do as he is told. The water in the hot side's much too hot. He uses cold.

It's hard to make much soap suds, but he doesn't seem to care. In fact he doesn't seem to know why soap is always there. Mom listens to him splashing, and, from coldness, hears him howl. Then Jimmy turns the white to black upon the towel.

He comes forth for inspection. Is there any place he's missed? In truth, his hands are pretty clean—but only to the wrist. Upon his cheeks, his nose and chin of dirt there's not a speck—but mother takes him back again—to wash his ears and neck.

OATS ARE GOOD FOR HORSES

Oatmeal is still being mined and marketed in some parts of North America. Porridge is still sliding down the long suffering esophagus to drop with a dull sickening pop into the bread basket. A Virginia person of unvarnished sex inquires whether any real benefit is derived from oatmeal as a breakfast food, and complains that it does not seem to have laxative properties. This Virginia correspondent does not care to overload his or her stomach with "junk," having arrived at that sad stage when one doesn't care to overload one's stomach with anything except maybe once or twice a day some food.

With admirable restraint I refrain from citing the colloquy between the Englishman and the Scot about oats, instead I'll compare oats and wheat. Rolled oats—Protein 16.7 per cent; fat, 2.5 per cent; carbohydrate, 66.2 per cent; mineral, 2.1 per cent; calories, 1,380.

Cracked wheat—Protein 11.1 per cent; fat, 1.7 carbohydrate, 75.5 per cent; mineral, 1.6 per cent; calories, 1,635.

Wheat contains more cellulose or fiber than oats and is therefore slightly more laxative, though most refined or milled wheat products are freed of the fiber and are therefore less laxative than oatmeal or rolled oats or other oat preparations used as "breakfast food."

Oats are an excellent breakfast food for horses and honest working people, but not so good for those of us who get by without doing any honest work. The sedentary or brain worker uses little energy and he needs no oats. Oats for breakfast are all right for the children, if the children are real children and play hard every day. If the children are little namby pambies who pass their days bathing and keeping their pretty clothes clean and never tear around and holler and go in swimmin' and raise Cain generally, about one oat should suffice for their breakfast.

Oats contain considerable calcium, considerable iron, and more sulphur than eggs, but less phosphorus than wheat.

The main objection to oatmeal as a "breakfast food" is that most of us get too much carbohydrate (starch and sugar) in our general diet. If one does prefer oatmeal porridge or other oat preparation for breakfast, then that is enough carbohydrate for that meal and certainly it should not be followed by bread, rolls, toast, cakes or other starch ration. The same rule applies, of course, to the use of wheat or wheat preparations as "breakfast food."

Again I would remind mothers that regular children who play hard can and should dispose of as much or perhaps more carbohydrate than their sedentary parents require.

For many persons, including children over two years of age, it may be better to cook oat preparations only a few minutes say 15 minutes. This leaves some starch unconverted to dextrin, and starch favors the lactic fermentation process in the intestine. For infants or invalids it is generally better to give oat preparations a prolonged cooking, perhaps two hours or more, in order to convert nearly all of the starch into soluble dextrin.

Both oats and wheat are deficient in the most essential vitamin A, but this deficiency is readily remedied by the addition of liberal quantities of the green leafy vegetables, relishes or fodder or by the addition of fresh milk or butter.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A GIFT OF USED CLOTHING

Is there any way to make articles of clothing safe to wear, after they have been worn by a person who had tuberculosis? (Mrs. E.)

Answer—Yes, ordinary washing and ironing, or dry cleaning will make any article of clothing safe to wear. Other means of disinfecting clothing are steam sterilization, boiling, and exposure to direct sunlight if the clothing will stand it.

Q. Where is Mills College? K. G.
A. It is in Oakland, California. It is a college for women, which was founded in 1885.

Q. How is the word libids used? F. H.

A. It is used as a single word to express the emotional craving or wish psychiatrists believe to be behind all human activities, the repression of which leads to psychoneurosis.

Q. What is the significance of the expression "Parthian shot"? C. G.

A. The Parthians were a warlike people who specialized in shooting arrows on horseback. Descending at top speed upon the enemy they delivered their darts and dashed on, turning to send arrows as they departed. A Parthian shot has come to mean a parting verbal dart aimed to be received but not returned.

Q. Is it true that the walking leaf fern spreads by the leaves bending over and taking root? A. W.

A. The fronds do arch over until they touch the earth where they root and form new plants. Some other ferns occasionally produce plants in this way, but in this species it is a settled habit. The new plants grow up, repeating the process of walking and soon the original plant is surrounded by quite a colony of its own offspring without the intervention of spores. The connections between them are slow to die, and it is not unusual to see three or four generations linked together.

Q. Why are vikings so-called? H. T. S.

A. "Vik" means a fiord or inlet, and vikings were the "inlet men" from the deep inlets of the Scandinavian coast.

Q. Who was the first monk to become a Pope? T. S. G.

A. Gregory I, a follower of Benedict, made Pope in 590, was the first monk to hold this high position.

Q. How well is the average person supposed to hear? T. M.

A. The usual hearing standard is ability to distinguish words spoken in a low voice at a distance of 50 feet.

Q. Please indicate the stages of development of the modern pianoforte.
A. R. E.

A. An article distributed by the Aeolian Company says: "The technical development of the modern pianoforte advanced through these stages: The monochord, clavichord, clavicord, spinet, and harpsichord."

Q. What is a tontine agreement? L. E. S.

A. This is an arrangement by which a group of persons share certain benefits or monies on such terms that in the event of the death or default of one or more members, these shares are divided among the remaining members, until one person has the whole amount or advantage. In most modern insurance companies the whole goes to those remaining in the group on the expiration of the tontine period.

Adventures In The Library

By ARNOLD MULDER

AN ERROR THAT COST A MIL-LION

A writer in a current magazine figures out that Charles M. Sheldon's novel, "In His Steps," published in 1896, would at the very low rate of five cents a copy have by this time netted its author the tidy sum of $1,100,000 because more than 2,000,000 copies of the book have been sold. But Mr. Sheldon, who is now 65 years old, declares that he has received less than $2,000 in all for writing the book, and that money was given to him voluntarily by certain publishers who had made hundreds of thousands out of the book, not because they were legally obliged to pay it.

Couldn't Copyright
And it was all due to a little mistake that a half hour's research in an encyclopedia could have prevented. But when it was made no one dreamed that the book was financially valuable. A small church paper in Chicago purchased the serial rights to the novel and instead of sending in Washington it sent only one. And when the novel appeared in book form, it did not contain all of the story; but certain parts were not included, perhaps to cut the cost of printing. That fact made it impossible to get a copyright on the book when it finally appeared in its complete form.

And so a man who might have made a million out of his book had to be satisfied to let others make a great deal of money out of it while he himself did not get a cent. It is one of the strangest royalty cases in the annals of American publishing.

But that did not prevent the public from assuming that the author of "His Steps" was getting wealthy. When the sale ran into hundreds of thousands and then into millions, beginning letters began to flood Mr. Sheldon asking him to help financially with this, that and the other thing. As is well known, "In His Steps" advocates asking the question, "What would Jesus do?" before doing or saying anything in life, and the people who begged Sheldon for money often asked, "Would Jesus have refused a request like mine if he had made as much money as you have made?"

But the author of "In His Steps" is about to come into his own to some extent at least. It is announced that the story is to be put on the screen for the first time and the bureau of copyright at Washington has ruled that the author of the book is entitled to the picture rights of his famous story. A motion picture concern is said to have paid $20,000 merely to clear the title for screen production, and while figures of that kind always have a greatly inflated look because of the advertising pull of mere bigness, the length of time it has taken to clear the title seems to show that it was no child's play.

But it remains to be seen whether the movie public will make the same response to the story that the home reading public did. And it will be interesting to see what title the movie scenario carpenters will hitch on to the story. It would be a nine days' wonder if they did not change Sheldon's title. It will probably be converted "Passion's Footprints" or something else as meaningless as that.

IS NO NOVELIST
But why didn't Sheldon cash in on the book's vogue by writing other novels and copyright them properly? The answer is simple. He was not and is not a novelist. He did try to do that and he published two or three stories soon after "In His Steps" appeared. But apparently the great reputation he had made could not float them. They were feeble and rather wisely Sheldon quit trying to be what he was not.

Regarded as fiction, "In His Steps" is also feeble, but it struck a note that appealed to the millions. It was begun as a serial to keep the author's Sunday evening audience interested and when it was written, it was meant for publication at all.

Such a thing can be done once spontaneously but at cannot be forced artificially. But if he had had the knack for writing merely passably good fiction Mr. Sheldon might have made a great deal of money even though "In His Steps" netted him nothing. But he did not, or could not do so and he has recently written an article on "Why I Am Not Afraid Of Being Poor."

NOTICE CITY WATER USERS

On account of water conditions many people are compelled to use city water for washing and are inconvenienced because of its hardness. To overcome this add one teaspoonful of Rub-No-More Washing Powder (the Original 5c Water Softener) to each gallon of city water. IT SAVES SOAP.

Besides its 15 household uses it is the only cleanser that will clean sinks and tubs and dissolve upon rinsing. No sand left to clog drain pipes. adv.

LOCAL SHOOTERS TRIM MANITOWOC IN TWO EVENTS

Lake Shore City Wins First Place in Northeastern Trapshooting Loop

Kaukauna—Kaukauna's team of sharpshooters in the Northeastern Trapshooting league defeated the league leading Manitowoc team Sunday by winning two events, tying one and losing one. The local marksmen exceeded Manitowoc in the number of birds broken, getting 455 to Manitowoc's 434, but Kaukauna had to win all four events to tie the lake shore club for the league lead. Manitowoc consequently wins first place and the trophy cup. Kaukauna will be awarded a cup for second place.

In the other team matches, Coleman won three and lost one with Oconto, and Green Bay won two, tied one and lost one against with the tallied Appleton club.

O. Deering of Columbus was all-around high gun, breaking 98 out of 100 birds. E. Riley of Green Bay was high gun in the league, breaking 96 birds. Mrs. C. W. Stribley of Kaukauna won first place in the events for ladies. One hundred and fifteen marksmen from all over the state attended the shot, which was the largest of the year. One more registered league shoot remains on the schedule. It will be held at Oconto on Sept. 5, Labor day.

The scores shot on that day will have no effect on the league standings for all team matches ended with the Manitowoc shoot. Kaukauna has a good chance winning the cup for the highest number of birds broken all season by the various clubs.

Members of Kaukauna's team are C. W. Stribley, D. C. Hayward, O. Larson, C. E. Larson and W. R. Harwood. All shot good scores. The Manitowoc team consisted of E. J. Nelson, J. Schutte, P. Hamilton, A. H. Pittz and C. W. Tikalsky.

CLERK-MULFORD GAME FEATURES SOFTBALL LOOP

Mulfords Monday Evening in Principal Tilt

Kaukauna—This week's schedule of games in the Kaukauna Twilight Softball loop finds the league leading Mulfords Monday evening in the feature tilt of the week. The Mulfords finished in second place the first half of the season and are on top now, having won all their games. Mulfords always prove troublesome for the leaders.

The fast traveling Postals engage the Volleyballers Tuesday night in what should be an easy win for the Postals. The government men have been playing real ball of late and will be near the top of the heap at the close of the season. On Wednesday evening the Bankers, who are tied with the Clerks for first place, will meet the once famous Homans. Homans, winners of first place in the first half of the league season, have been slipping, although they still have their team lineup. They will attempt a comeback against the Bankers this game.

The complete schedule for the week follows:
Monday—Mulfords vs. Clark; Tuesday—Volleyballers vs. Postals; Wednesday—Bankers vs. Homans; Thursday—Thimpany vs. Electricians.

All the Sunday school children left Kaukauna on a special interurban car at 9 o'clock Sunday morning and returned at 8 o'clock in the evening. A picnic dinner and supper were served at the lake, and church services were held in the morning in the pavilion. The Rev. E. L. Worthman delivered the sermon.

In the afternoon there were races and games for children and athletic contests for men, including a softball game. The ladies also had their softball teams, as did the children. Near the close of the afternoon a tug-of-war between the men was held, each side winning one pull. In the junior tug-of-war the girls beat the boys. Everyone proclaimed the picnic a success.

ENTRIES FOR TENNIS TOURNAMENT CLOSE SEPT. 5

Kaukauna—Entries are being received by the Kaukauna Tennis club for the singles tournament to be held on the municipal courts starting Sept. 5. SCOFIELD DOWNS NEW LONDON NINE

New Entry in Central Wisconsin League Earns 3 to 1 Victory

Special to Post-Crescent
New London—Friday evening the Soda Grills were defeated by the High Lifts softball team, 6-4. Both teams played errorless ball and Bunke and Mielklojan pitched well. Thursday night's game between the Undertakers and New York Lifes was postponed. Monday and Tuesday evening will see all the Softball league teams in action.

Sunday's game in the Central Wisconsin League scheduled New London at Stevens Point. Steven Point, however, after losing last Sunday's double header, Stevens Point threw up the sponge and left the league. Scofield, a small town but strong in baseball, secured Stevens Point's franchise. New London journeyed there and met defeat 3 to 1. Wahl pitched a good game and made New London's lone tally in the second inning by losing the ball for a home run.

Embarrass, formerly in the Wolf Valley league, has taken Manawa's place in the Central Wisconsin league. The entry of Manawa's team was celebrated by a 6-1 victory over Bear Creek. Old Bill Adams is pitching for Embarrass and it reports are true, he is getting better each year. Those two new entries should afford stiff competition, the balance of the season for New London and Waupaca, as both these teams possess heavy hitters and good pitchers.

"BOB" REVIEWS LENROOT RECORD OF LAST TERM

Asserts Blaine, Had He Been in Senate, Would Have Opposed World Court

Shawano.—(P)—Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., Saturday reviewed Senator Irving L. Lenroot's stand on war and peace, asserting that Governor Blaine, if he had been in the senate, would have voted against ratification of the Versailles treaty and the World court.

The senator's address was made on a tour of the state in behalf of the Blaine-Ekern Progressive state. Senator Lenroot, he said, voted against the LaFollette reservation providing for a referendum on war, abolishing of conscription and the limitation of armaments and navies as well as against reservations "that sought to make the League of Nations a real instrument of peace."

"Senator Lenroot voted to put this country into the League of Nations and to ratify the Versailles treaty," Senator LaFollette said.

"This cruel treaty violated the condition of the armistice upon which Germany laid down her arms. During this historic fight Sen. Lenroot led the little group called 'Mild Reservationists' who were ready to accept the treaty with a few milk and water reservations. Sen. Lenroot consistently opposed reservations designed to protect the interests of America."

"Sen. Lenroot voted against the LaFollette reservations providing for a referendum on war, abolishing conscription, seeking to prevent the acquisition of territory by force and for limitation of armaments and navies," Sen. Lenroot voted against the Johnson reservation to prevent the British Empire from having six votes to our one. Sen. Lenroot fought the reservation proposed by Sen. Reed of Missouri providing that the United States should assume no obligation to enforce any article of the treaty with its military or naval forces.

"Sen. Lenroot was ready at any time with a few weak reservations, to accept this treaty which the late Philander C. Knox, former Secretary of state, and recognized as a conservative senator, denounced as the harsh-est treaty of modern times."

STAGE AND SCREEN

"GIZARRE ROLES FOR
"WISE GUY" STARS

"The Wise Guy," Frank Lloyd's new First National picture, showing at the Elite Theatre today, Tuesday and Wednesday, sees several star members of the cast in roles that are for them distinctly bizarre.

For instance Mary Carr who is known to her millions of fans as the perfect screen "mother" and the essence of maternal sweetness, appears in "The Wise Guy" as a crafty and sanctimonious old sinner, who rifles the pockets of a congregation of religion-seekers while the pastor, himself a faker, holds them spellbound with his hypocritical eloquence.

Before the final fade-out, however, Mrs. Carr "reforms" and becomes converted to her old endearing self. Mary Astor, who, like Mary Carr, has always been seen in roles denoting great modesty, winsomeness and above-board integrity, takes the part of a girl crook in "The Wise Guy." She cleverly hides her crookedness, however, under the guise of extreme innocence. Until discovered she poses as a soulful-faced hymn-singer.

Betty Compson, another star member of "The Wise Guy," is seen first as a hula-dancer and then as an organist and choir-girl with the fraudulent gospel outfit.

James Kirkwood, who plays the title role in "The Wise Guy," is seen as the faking evangelist. In the one he is converted to the very beliefs which he so hypocritically airs.

HORSE PULLING CONTEST TO BE HELD DURING FAIR

One of the features of the Seymour fair, which is to be held the last week of August, will be a horse pulling contest, which is scheduled to be held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, Aug. 26.

The dynamometer constructed and operated by the department of agricultural engineering of the University of Wisconsin will be used to measure the load pulled by the horses. The machine consists of a hydraulic brake applied to an ordinary truck. The truck cannot start until this brake is released, and the brake is not released until the team lifts the weight. This weight is increased as the contest progresses, and is called the tractive pull. To be counted as a pull the truck must move 27½ feet without stopping. There is enough spring in the dynamometer to let the horse ease into the pull without the jerk that the old fashioned stone boat had. This dynamometer measures the pull accurately.

Rules of the contest will not permit whipping or abusing of horses. Neither horse will be given the advantage at the evening. The driver may either ride or walk. The crowd is asked to refrain from cheering until the pull is completed.

County Agent Robert Amundson is cooperating with the committee in charge in interesting horse owners in bringing out their teams. Two classes will be entered, the first to contain entries weighing under 2,000 pounds and the second to weigh 2,000 pounds or more.

ENGLISH ACTOR DESERTS STAGE; ENTERS MOVIES

New York.—(P)—Norman Trevor, who has been before the footlights in England and this country many years, has left the stage "for good" and in the future will devote all his time to the movies.

Here are his reasons: "I believe the movies are doing infinitely better work than is to be found in the legitimate theater. You can go to six motion picture houses in New York and the chances are you will see four good film plays. Go to as many legitimate theaters and you will be doing well if you see one or two good plays."

"In a way, this illustrates how far the movies are ahead of the stage now. The stage is drifting backward. Seldom do we find any good drama. On the other hand, I think the big film productions of the past few years hold definite promise that even better things will be accomplished."

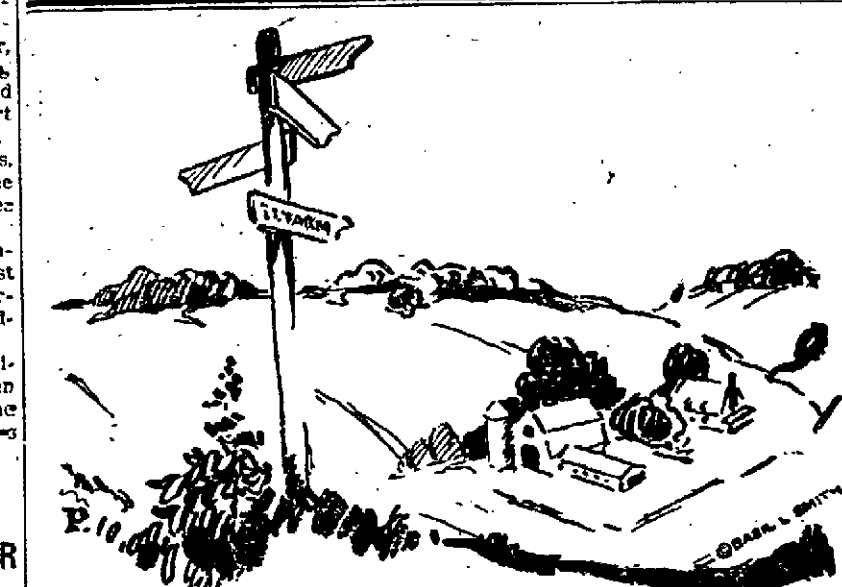

Trevor did not start out in life to be an actor. He just drifted to the stage and when almost immediate success greeted him he kept at it. The same is true of his entrance into the movies. When Paramount offered him a contract for five years he took it.

ALASKAN WOMAN WELL KNOWN TO U. S. TOURISTS

Owner of Alaskan Hotel Becomes Famous Through Cooking and Kindness

Skagway, Alaska.—(P)—Many tourists from the States know Mrs. Harriet Pullen of the famous Pullen House, which is 1500 miles as a plane flies from Ketchikan, at the southeastern tip of Alaska to Nome, out to the Northwest on Bering Sea.

All over the world, wherever linger those madmen and others who came rushing to Alaska and the Klondike—to the eastward, in Canada—for gold in 1898 and 1899, Mrs. Pullen is loved.

A handful of women became famous because they were able to stand beside the sprinkling of men in the uncounted myriad of goldrushers who were hard enough to conquer the North—and of all that bright company the men of the Golden North count Mrs. Pullen the brightest.

Young, comely, strong Harriet Pullen was daughter of a rancher on Puget Sound in Washington State.

She came to Alaska in 1898 with her four children to go with her husband over the Chilkoot Trail or the equally terrible White Pass Trail into the Klondike for gold.

She lost her husband. Camped on the beach here she had seven dollars—and four little children.

The ranch was never so mad that men did not eat, and the mother with the four children and seven dollars went to cooking. She cooked so well and withal was so kind and helpful that those thousands passing through here and up the White Pass Trail or through Dyea, four miles from Skagway, and up the Chilkoot Trail called her the Mother of the North. She prospered and bought out old Can Moore's boarding house in Skagway.

The boarding house she developed into Pullen House, a twenty-room modern hotel, standing in a landscape garden of several acres split by a mountain stream with an island and rustic bridges. Canadians opening up their country came with a railroad over White Pass—the White Horse and Yukon.

The railroad still runs, and Mrs. Pullen still prospers because the Whitehanded Children of the Outside come taking this fast route to see the sights of the North. Pullen House is reputed to have entertained more distinguished guests than any other hostelry in the oldest son was Dan.

He attended the University of Washington, which then had a preparatory school, five years. President Roosevelt gave him the first appointment from Alaska to West Point. He became all-American tackle, and graduated among the first five cadets in his class.

Into the World War he went as a colonel of engineers. He was pressed into service as a tank commander. With his squadron of tanks he took a German position, but infantry following him failed to consolidate. To hold the position, Pullen hastened back, reformed the infantry, led them back and retook the position. He died of sleeping sickness, attributed to war service, two years ago.

Royal Pullen graduated from the University of Washington, playing guard, and was an officer in the World War. Both brothers were cited for gallantry and General Pershing once exclaimed: "I wish I had a regiment of Pullens."

Mildred Pullen graduated at a nurses school in New York City. Chester Pullen, a student at the University of Washington, was drowned at Ketchikan on his way back to the States after a summer at home.

CURED BY KING

London.—King George IV cured General Sir George Higginson of smoking. General Higginson recalled on his 100th birthday recently, that when he was a child the king noticed him in his perambulator one day, and for a joke, since the child was standing at the king's cigar—put it to the baby's lips. The nautical impression stayed with him all his life, Sir George stated.

FEMALE COURT VISITORS MUST WEAR LONG SKIRTS

Stockholm.—(P)—Skirts must fall within six inches of the ground at the conservative Swedish Court.

In fact, all the ladies who are actually attached to the Court wear black gowns with trains three yards long on official occasions. The sleeves to these official gowns are short and of white satin. This style was introduced by Queen Desirée who was the sweetheart of Napoleon before she married the grandfather of the pres- ent king.

Foreign women appearing at the Swedish Court may wear any color they prefer, but their gowns are sup- posed to fall down on the ankles re- gardless of what Parisian dressmakers say.

A Chinaman Thought They Were Twins

—to the white man all Chinamen look alike. To a Chinaman all white men look alike—and sometimes it is identically the same with advertising.

TAKE advertising for instance, you may say — “Oh, advertising is just advertising — it’s all alike.” But get an advertising expert on the subject, one who will be honest with you regardless of his personal feelings. He will show you the difference. What kind and how much advertising does your business call for? Where are you located? What was Appleton’s bank clearance last month? What is the weekly payroll in Appleton? What is the nationality and buying habit of the people in your territory? How much money is spent each day by the people you wish to do business with? Do they read? Do they think? How much business is being done by your competitor who is a believer in newspaper advertising? How much money do you spend foolishly on poorly planned advertising campaigns without consulting men who know? Do not hesitate to put your problems before The Appleton Post-Crescent Advertising Department.

Advertising costs money. Intelligently conceived and directed, it pays for itself many times over. But to get maximum results it must have the proper audience.

The question of how to get that audience for your advertising is of the highest importance. You want as many people as possible to read it, and you want them to read carefully enough to digest its full meaning. At the same time you don’t want to spend a prohibitive sum in reaching them.

This question is conclusively answered by The Post-Crescent. It is the ideal advertising medium. Every day it goes into more than 13,000 homes of people who spend money. To get 100% results, advertising must get 100% attention.

The entire department is composed of men who have been trained and are paid well to be your counsel. They are not permitted to accept commissions in any form, so you may rest assured there is no personal gain considered in their decisions.

Our illustration service carries thousands of pictures that are here ready for your use. Always bear in mind our service department is here for you.

We will plan, write and direct your advertising campaign without charge. You pay for the space your campaign occupies in The Post-Crescent.

USE CHEMICALS FOR PERFUME IN LIEU OF FLOWERS

Chemists Succeed in Manufacturing Synthetic Scents in Laboratories

New York.—(AP)—The chemist's laboratory has duplicated nature successfully, this time in the realm of scents, and the chemical formulae of odors much different than those usually associated with chemistry will be told the Golden Jubilee meeting of the American Chemistry Society meeting here September 6.

Research in perfumes head an imposing array of subjects which will include efforts to prolong life by the biological chemist, work in the dye industry, rubber production, petroleum research and hundreds of other fields.

The largest number of foreign chemists ever to visit America will be included in the three or four thousand attendants at the convention, among them being some of Europe's foremost research authorities.

Prince P. Ginori Conti of Italy, Irene du Pont, Gabriel Bertrand, professor of biological chemistry at the University of Paris, Camille Matignon, member of the French Academy of Science, Sir James Colquhoun Irvine, head of the Scottish University of St. Andrews, Leonor Michaelis of the University of Berlin and others are among the leading visitors.

Edgar Fahs Smith, formerly President of the University of Pennsylvania, will be awarded the Priestley medal for outstanding service to chemical science.

BUILDING PERMITS

Building permits aggregating $3,120 were issued Monday by Walter O. Zachachner, city building inspector. Permits were granted to F. J. Holtz, 1233 S. Outagamie-st., to remodel his residence; J. J. Geigel, 1205 W. Lorraine-st., garage; William Ellis, 1125 W. Winnebago-st., residence and garage.

Bulck engineers recommend that the oil be entirely changed in the 1927 Buicks only four times a year.

This result is accomplished through the prevention of crankcase dilution and by sealing the engine and oil from all abrasives which might reduce the efficiency of the lubricant. The elimination of crankcase dilution is one of the greatest problems confronting the automobile industry. The solution of this problem removes all the objectionable features of winter driving, such as freezing of the oil pump, frequent oil change and consumption of oil in the crankcase which is very injurious to all working parts of the engine.

The greatest saving effected by the Buick device for preventing dilution is in the oil, it being necessary to change oil only every three months, instead of every five hundred miles, as in the past.

Bulck has solved dilution with a vacuum crankcase ventilator in combination with thermostatic water control.

One of the chief products of the explosive mixture in a gasoline engine is water. For every gallon of gasoline burned, a gallon of water is produced in the form of steam. When started up a cold engine, water and the heavy ends of the fuel whirling in the combustion chamber, cause a certain engine temperature and their way down past the pistons in the form of vapor. Unless these products are removed while in the form of vapor, they will condense and cause water, kerosene, and acid dilution. The result is excessive engine wear, the breaking down of hard wearing metals, and short life for the engine.

The Buick vacuum ventilator sucks the vapors from the crankcase before they can condense and mix with the oil. The ventilator works on the ejector principle. The fan blows air through a funnel past an opening in the crankcase, causing a suction which pulls the vapors from the crankcase. This ventilator adds no complications to the engine as there are no moving parts to get out of order or require adjustment.

The rear end of the crankcase is vented to permit easy flow of the vapors to the ejector. This vent is provided with an air cleaner so that no dust or dirt can get into the engine. This ventilator, in addition to preventing harmful dilution, also prevents the oil fumes from escaping through the rear breather and getting into the closed bodies.

In combination with the ventilator are an oil filter and air cleaner. These three devices keep the oil in the engine in good condition at all times. The thermostatic water control is also an important feature in combination with the ventilator. It is built into the radiator and blocks the water circulation so that under no weather conditions will the water warm up from zero to 120 degrees in less than three minutes. At this temperature the thermostat automatically opens and allows the water to circulate in the regular way, but it never allows the water to drop below 120 degrees, even under the most severe driving conditions.

After the engine has been driven and warmed up, and the car parked, the thermostat closes, blocking the circulation of water, keeping the engine warm for a long time. This prevents numerous cold starts, which always contribute to crankcase dilution. This quick warmup prevents excessive use of the choke, which is a big help in preventing dilution. Driving with the choke out causes raw gasoline, which is not combustible, to be dumped into the combustion chamber, from when it eventually finds its way into the oil.

Moving Pictures Rival Legitimate Stage for Varied Program on Broadway

New York.—(AP)—The large motion picture houses of Broadway fast are approaching the legitimate theatres in the magnitude of their stage presentations.

Many of them now are miniature musical productions differentiated from the musical shows only in length.

LIGHTS DISPLAYS FIRST
Symphony orchestras long have been a feature of the large houses, with classical music interspersed with popular airs, but the stage remained merely a decorated background for the projection screen.

The first novelty effects on the stage consisted of playing multi-colored lights on special curtains, but soon individual performers were put on the stage between pictures. Usually there was only a soloist, picked any where from the Broadway army of unemployed.

The last year has seen the greatest development.

Ballet masters, stage masters, and chorus trainers have been added to the house staff, while equal attention has been devoted to the development of costumes and scenery. Players sometimes have been placed under long term contracts, learning new presentations with each picture change.

Throughout this change the customary show limit of two hours has been observed, but it has led to the reduction in length of feature pictures.

An hour and a quarter once was the customary length of the picture, but it has been cut some twenty minutes.

The time of each picture and number, even the overture, is so clearly defined that often fractions of minutes are noted.

THEATRES NOT HURT

With all this artistic expansion, the motion picture houses have not encroached on the legitimate theatre in New York, although there has been a change in other cities. This is evidenced by the present building of ten new theatres for plays and musical shows, while several movie houses also are being constructed, including one with a seating capacity of 6,000, at a top price of two dollars.

BLACKSMITHS IN COUNTRY SCARCE

Survey of Army Experts Reveals Dearth of Apprentices in America

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Motorization of America has almost swept away the village blacksmith and his helper and the change has brought an added problem to the army, which needs a reserve of such workers to care for the 60,000 or more mounts and teams which would be needed in a full strength mobilization.

In peace times the army uses about 45,000 horses and mules. Within a month after a war mobilization had been ordered that number would increase to more than 200,000 in active service and requiring constant attention. Yet, repeated surveys disclose that few boys are engaging as blacksmiths' apprentices and that in general, horsehoofers of today are men of forty-five years or more, who went in to the trade before the era of the horseless carriage had arrived.

The army experts found, strangely, that while the advent of automobiles has reduced the use of driving horses it has served to increase the demand for riding animals, as horse lovers now are able to get quickly out of the cities by motor to enjoy country riding and hunting. There also has been an increase in the use of heavy draft animals in cities and congested areas where wagons are held to take up less space in unloading at the curb than motor trucks.

The draft animals population of the country is valued at about 25,000,000 and half of that number are shod animals. From this the army experts argue that there is a wide range for horsehoofers.

A survey in New York state showed but two horsehoofers apprentices at work.

ANDRE MESSENGER LAUDS
AMERICAN JAZZ MUSIC

Paris.—(AP)—The Condescending attitude hitherto assumed by musical Paris toward jazz as a form of music received a decided shock when it found a highly respected composer like Andre Messenger among the admirers of jazz.

The composer of "Veronique," "Beaucarre" and other works which count as classics in light opera, has come out with the declaration: "I adore jazz. American jazz! And I am not the only musician to love it! How can a musician fail to love jazz? It has brought us new rhythms, new harmonies, a new instrumentation and has awakened in us new sensations. In short, it has created something new. And to create something new."

"In France we don't know what real jazz is, with a very few exceptions," and as a specimen of true jazz Messenger put George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue" on his gramophone.

"BACK TALK" POOR
POLICY IN MEXICO CITY

Mexico City.—(AP)—Back talk to a policeman may be bad business here. Three men were shot in one day recently or excessive loquacity while in process of being arrested.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pankratz are spending the week at Antigo.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Nathrop and family are spending the week at Pellican Lake.

Miss Irene Tracy has returned from a two weeks vacation at Waupaca and Chicago.

HOW TO THROW THE BULL

It's dead easy, this bull-throwing business! Miss Fox Hastings, of Fort Worth, Texas, demonstrated as much at the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition rodeo in Philadelphia. The pictures show her prescription. The average bulls says "uncle" in about a minute and a half.

"AIR BUMPITIS" NEW MALADY AMONG PILOTS

Cheyenne, Wyo.—(AP)—Traveling across the continent in a mail airplane is not as comfortable as riding the "soft cushions" of a railroad car, several of the air mail service have learned.

A new malady has visited the pilots who traverse the Rocky Mountains in daily flight—"air bumpitis".

Its effects are bruises and sprains of the back and often the limbs.

Recently two pilots, after flying through a heavy wind and "rough weather" over the Continental Divide, were obliged to go to bed for a rest. The bumps, produced by air currents from dissimilar terrain, probably are worse over the Rocky Mountains than in any other section of the transcontinental mail route.

To the self you have hidden away

BEHIND the routine of our daily lives most of us hide something of ourselves away. There is a bit of Paderewski in every man; there is a little of Melba in every woman.

We listen to other people sing for us, other people play for us. We would like to do these things ourselves.

We would like to feel the thrill and satisfaction of putting our selves into the creation of something fine. It's normal, it's human.

For such of us the Gulbransen Registering Piano is made.

You need no musical training to play it. You can play it by roll. You can control its playing. You can hush it to a whisper, or release its clear, sweet tones in brilliant volume. You can play fast or slow, accent melody and harmony notes, accompany voices or other instruments. It is simple and easy.

A small cash payment will put the Gulbransen Registering Piano in your home. Subsequent payments to suit your convenience. Allowance will be made for your present piano or other musical instrument.

SEISMOGRAPH AT YALE GETS CARE OF SMALL INFANT

Kept in Glass Nursery Where It Receives Constant Attention

New Haven, Conn.—(AP)—A codling infant and the new seismograph at Peabody museum, Yale university, are very much alike in certain respects. Both need the most painstaking attention.

The machine deep in the basement of the museum, with its foundations on bed rock, is kept in a glass nursery. Like an infant it receives constant care that both the growing and the rheumatic pains of Mother Earth may be faithfully recorded.

Every day for two or three hours, the seismograph is given attention from the observer and almost in every hour of daylight it is examined to see if the scratching of the needle in its

Dr. C. D. Boyd of Kaukauna, medical director of the Riverview sanatorium, examined 16 people at the free monthly chest clinic of the Wisconsin State tuberculosis association at Appleton Woman's club, Monday afternoon.

Many people applied for examinations and 12 had to be turned away. The clinic is conducted each month under the auspices of the Appleton Woman's club. It is free to everyone, but children under 12 years of age must be accompanied by a parent or some older person.

delicate recorded devices shows signs of an earth tremor. So sensitive is the seismograph that the hard breathing of a man close to it will start the needle in motion and the slamming of a door will cause it to vibrate with some show of violence. The records are made by the needle scratching on soot-coated rice paper placed on a drum which revolves beneath the needle at the rate of .009 inch per second, or one revolution of the drum per hour. Each day the record is removed and the minute markings on the soot developed by use of a spray of shellac and alcohol. These records are sent to the Geodetic Survey Bureau in Washington for study.

EAGLES BEATEN BY OSHKOSH TEAM

Errors Permit Visitors to Score Three Runs in Fifth Inning

Menasha-Oshkosh Eagles defeated Menasha Eagles 6 to 4 at Recreation park Sunday afternoon. The loss of the game will not effect the local team whose lead is such that it has the pennant clinched regardless of the result of the remaining games.

Up to the fifth inning the score was 2 to 0 in favor of Menasha. In the fifth inning an error on the part of the home team permitted three runs for the visitors who scored three more in the sixth inning. Menasha scored two additional runs in the last inning.

St. Mary Young Men's team was defeated 5 to 1 by the Tustin Sluggers at Tustin Sunday. Up to the seventh inning the score was 1 to 1, when two errors and four hits resulted in four runs for the home team. The batter for Menasha consisted of Gosz and Zielinski and for Tustin, Bulls and Sasse.

The Lake Shore Manitowoc league won from the Eastern Wisconsin Manitowoc team last Saturday, 9 to 1. The Sunday game between Two Rivers and Sturgeon Bay was won by Sturgeon Bay, 5 to 3. It was the first game Two Rivers lost this season. Both games were umpired by William Tuschschere of Menasha.

Arrangements have been made for a series of three baseball games between Menasha Eagles and Oshkosh. The first game will be played at Oshkosh, Aug. 22, the second at Menasha, Aug. 23, and the third at Oshkosh on Labor day.

Benny Kopinski pitched the first game for Neenah and returned in the fifth inning of the second, relieving Kinkle, while E. Johnson caught both games. Green and Hiebner pitched for Appleton and Kinkle did the catching. In the first tilt Appleton got six hits and one error; Neenah 13 hits, two errors. SURVEY REVEALS U. S. HAS 61 PEAKS 14,000 FT. HIGH

Colorado Has 47 Peaks More Than 14,000 Feet High

San Francisco—(AP)—The recent re-naming of numerous high peaks by the United States Geographic Board has disclosed that there are sixty-one peaks in this country more than 14,000 feet high. Of these, forty-seven are in Colorado, thirteen in California and one in Washington.

The Sierra Club, a nationally known organization, recommended some fifty names—corrections and additions—of high places in the country's mountains, and many of these have been accepted as official. The data compiled by the Sierra Club has brought out some interesting facts.

California, which has the highest peak, Mt. Whitney, 14,501 feet, also has the lowest place, Death Valley, 280 feet below sea level. In California there are more than sixty unnamed peaks rising about 13,000 feet, according to the United States Geological Survey. There are also fifty named peaks towering more than 13,000 feet.

The mountains of Colorado, forty-seven of whose peaks top the 14,000 foot height are more rounded in conformation and much easier to climb than those of California, which are spire-like and contain more perpetual small glaciers.

The state of Washington's one peak of extreme height—Mt. Rainier, 14,408 feet—is claimed by mountaineers to be the most dominating and beautiful of all.

The United States Geological Survey and the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey gives the ten highest summits of the United States, exclusive of Alaska, with their altitudes as follows: Mt. Whitney, California, 14,501; Mt. Elbert, Colorado, 14,420; Mt. Rainier, Washington, 14,408; Mt. Massive, Colorado, 14,404; Mt. Harvard, Colorado, 14,397; Mt. Willits, California, 14,384; Blanca Peak, Colorado, 14,363; Grays Peak, Colorado, 14,341; Torreys Peak, Colorado, 14,336; and La Plata Peak, Colorado, 14,332.

A STORY OF A GIRL OF TODAY

FOR THE SAKE OF APPEARANCES

"A girl puts the idea of marrying out of her mind because she's sure that some day a man'll come along and take her right off her feet and she'll fall for him so hard that all she can do is to think of him and his love. That's the kind of love the girls today want. Jimmie and they don't want to marry until they can find a man who is so darn interesting that he makes her think of nothing else but himself."

"And, haven't you ever seen any one like that, Judy?"

"Never. Just now I want to work. I want to carve out some sort of a destiny for myself. I would have given anything in the world if Dad had let me take some kind of a course which would have fitted me for something."

"What kind of a career do you want, Judy?"

"I'm ashamed to say I don't know. I don't think I have any special talent and I know I haven't any special training. But I guess I have a modicum of common sense and I have a great desire to make something of myself in the business world. I want to be a free agent. I want to earn my money and live on it. I want to be able to spend it all in one day if I need be and starve all the rest of the week and then go back and do it over again."

"Well, you know, my dear, you've lost your job and what are you going to do now?"

"Well, Mr. James Costello," I said rather demurely, "I think if you don't mind, I'll eat the first thing."

"Good Lord, Judy, we've been walking miles. I've been so interested in what you've been saying that you must think I don't even know the decencies of life. I know you must be very hungry with all the trouble I've been making for you. Here. Let's go in here."

"Here" was a brilliantly lighted restaurant which I had learned was one of the most exclusive in the city. I knew that my black coat and little hat would pass unnoticed, but when I turned and looked at Jimmie, I burst out laughing.

He was a mess. Some of the other man's blood had also hit his shirt front and he was showing a most beautiful black eye.

TROUBLE LOOMS FOR AMERICA IN CHURCH BATTLE

President Appears to Be Good Watchman in Existing Struggle

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

Washington — Washington's estimate of Mexico is a great deal more nearly exact than its size-up of the Latin American republics south of the Panama canal.

Mexicans are so different from the people of the United States that the latter may not understand them very well, but at least it's realized here that Mexico's on the map, a next door neighbor, and one whose troubles and tribulations mean something on this side of the Rio Grande.

Countries like Bolivia and Paraguay can revolt to their heart's content, and Washington officials don't hardly know anything is going on. The United States government blithely undertakes the role of peacemaker between Chile and Peru, gets what peacekeepers generally get and still doesn't know what it was all about.

A United States naval mission goes gaily down to Rio to build up a big fighting fleet for the Brazilians, quite oblivious to the fact that it's a mighty dangerous plaything for Brazil to have.

But Mexico is recognized as a powder magazine, which would be no joke to have blow up—again.

Of course there are a few interests on this side of the border which would like to see a Mexican explosion, because this time they believe the United States would have to go in, stamp the embers out and make some safer disposition of the TNT.

A first class catastrophe generally affords an opportunity for looters to get on the job and loot.

The merits of the present religious rumpus in Mexico are neither here nor there. The essential fact is that they lift the temperature of the Mexican store of high explosives beyond the danger limit.

By great good luck, President Coolidge seems to be a good watchman in the present case.

He doesn't intend to lift the existing embargo on the indiscriminate shipment of arms from the United States into Mexico, he says—at any rate, not for "some time to come."

Mexico may or may not have some bad laws. If they're bad, President Coolidge would prefer to see them repealed in the regular way, not with guns shipped in from the United States.

The explosion of an arsenal as close by would be mighty unpleasant on this side of the line. Residents in the vicinity of Lake Denmark (N. J.) can testify to that.

That the United States would be hard put to it not to intervene, if another revolution should break out in Mexico diplomats in Washington generally agree.

Mexican revolutions really have become too frequent.

Military men are authority for the statement that it would be no small affair. It would be easy, in a way—but it's a big territory, with a population not to be sneezed at. It might take a year or two, and a million men, to win and hold the country down.

It also would align the whole of Latin America solidly against the United States.

HAY COMES FIRST
Springfield, Mass. — When there's having to be done, what's a little matter of $1,500,000? At least the hay had the call recently, when a meeting was called to decide a 1,500,000 dairy pool merger. It was a fine day to rake and mow, and so many of the farmer stockholders were absent that no vote could be taken.

Covered lawn tennis courts of regulation size are to be found on each of the six floors of an apartment building just completed in Paris, near the Invalides.

SUNDAY GAMES

Green Bay 3, Kimberly 1.
Neenah 5, Oshkosh 3.

With Sternagle allowing only six safe hits, while his mates clouted Leu for ten bingles, Appleton lost a Fox River Valley league game to the Farismen Sunday on errors and poor baserunning, 6-5. For while Sternagle toiled hard on the mound he made two costly errors and his mates aided with two more to help the Fondyites to a few unearned runs and the game. Fondy lead 6-0 in the eighth when the Eastman finally started hitting Leu squarely to score five times, snappy Fondy fielding halting the rally one short of a tie. In the final frame the chance to tie and win the tilt was lost by poor base running.

In another loop battle, Oshkosh, who defeated Kimberly Saturday, lost to Neenah and with Fondy's win the Farismen pulled up to exactly level with the Kimblys. Oshkosh lost game from the top. Kimberly lost its second game of the weekend to Green Bay, but Oshkosh, though losing, took undisputed possession of fourth place. Green Bay's win over the K-C men shoved it farther ahead of Appleton and kept it behind Oshkosh and Fondy. Oshkosh plays away from home for the remainder of the season and will have a tough time holding the top.

Leu held Appleton to two hits until the sixth frame. Baetz and Schultz kept pace in their batting race each getting two safe counts in four batters. Every member of the local squad got a hit but Bent. For Fondy L. Faris and Senecal each got two in three at bats. Fondy opened the tilt with a run in the first frame. After Sanders had flied out to Prieb, Senecal singled but was out to Schultz to turn on a fielder's choice on Senecal's chest. Senecal slid right. Then Jensen lofted to Prieb. Baetz hit safely for Appleton in the second but went out as part of a double play when Schultz hit to short. In the third Goshka started things with a hit but was caught between first and second by Leu's classy half-bat peg. Then Fondy opened up and Appleton cranked.

Sanders hit to Sternagle who shot the ball against the runner's lead in an attempt to throw him out at first. It bounded to the bleachers and Senecal walked. Baetz allowed the batter to run all the way to third. He scored on Senecal's single and Steen singled Senecal to second. Faris singled and on Jensen's sacrifice hit Senecal galloped home from third and Faris took second. Senecal walked and then Radtke heaved the ball over Goshka's head at third when Faris tried to puffer the sack, both Faris and Senecal scoring on the terrible heave. Senecal walked but was out trying to steal second, Ashman to turn.

In the fourth with one gone Leu singled and took second when Tor now erred on Sander's drive. The next two batters flew out to the gardens. In the sixth both squads hit and Fondy coined another run. For Appleton Radtke and Sternagle singled in a row. Tor now popped to Leu. Bent fanned and Radtke was caught at the plate on a close play when Prieb hit to short. J. Faris got on for Fondy by bouncing one off Sternagle's mit. Leu sacrificed him to second and he took third when Sanders lofted to Radtke at first. Senecal was hit by Sternagle and Steen hit safely, scoring Faris and sending Senecal to third. Steen stole second and then L. Faris went out. Schultz to Radtke.

In the seventh Appleton again threatened. Schultz and Ashman hit after Baetz had gone out on a grounder to Leu. Goshka forced Ashman at second, Schultz taking third.

WEEK'S SCHEDULE
Monday—Interlakes vs Legion.
Wednesday—Meyer Press vs Bankers.
Friday—Y. M. C. A. vs Post-Crescent.

First division teams of the city Twilight softball loop meet the three second-division squads in regularly scheduled games this week, in what should be wins for the first section crews. However, as has been shown this year, any team in the loop is capable of upstaging any other so that surprises may be looked for.

Monday the Interlakes, the squad which beat the loop-leading legion earlier in the season to knock that crew off the top, clashes with the Soldiers' Wednesday the Meyer Press and Bankers clash, with the Bankers slight favorites. Friday the Post-Crescent and Y. M. C. A. teams battle, with the Triangles favorite. The P-C men beat them in the only other game between them this year, but that was when the Sternard men were up there battling for first. Now they are on the down-grade, having lost about five straight and the Triangles are favored. The P-C men can take third by a win while the Bankers lose on short out to fifth by a loss while the Interlakes win. About three postponed tilts will be played this week in an effort to start "cleaning 'em up" and the Sternard crew will have at least one, possibly two. Wins will put it in the top class again while losses may shove it to last place. Strong teams such as the Bankers and Y. M. C. A. are on the P-C postponed game card.

COBB IS REPAID BY WELLS' WORK

College Southpaw With "Will to Win" Comes Through After Bad 1925 Season

BY BILLY EVANS
Ty Cobb is being repaid this year for the confidence that he has always had in Southpaw Ed Wells. The Tall left-hander of the Detroit staff is the first Tiger pitcher to turn in 10 victories. He recently accomplished it by outpitching "Lefty" Grove.

Wells came to the Tigers direct from Bethany college. After a brief trial he was sent to the minors for a year, then brought back to Detroit.

Last season Wells won only six games while losing nine and the opposition earned better than six runs a game off his delivery. Not a very impressive record.

Yet when I asked the Tigers over at Augusta, Ga., this spring, Cobb stressed the point that Wells should be a consistent winner. When I pressed him for the reason he laughingly replied:

"He has the old determination."

The expression, "the old determination" is much used in baseball. It may mean any number of things.

In the first place it means the player takes his work seriously, has the proper courage, also the will-to-win spirit.

One need watch Wells work only a few innings to realize just what the old determination means as expressed by Cobb. His jaw is set on every ball pitched and his deliberate windup makes it apparent that he feels he holds the mastery over the batter.

The Detroit players, half in earnest and half in jest, refer to Wells as the "psychology southpaw."

A college athlete, Wells entertains the belief that the will-to-win is half the battle, that if you think a thing hard and long enough it will come true.

When Wells pitches the thought of winning is uppermost. In addition he holds to the opinion that he has something on each and every batter that faces him.

So far the 1926 averages bear out that contention.

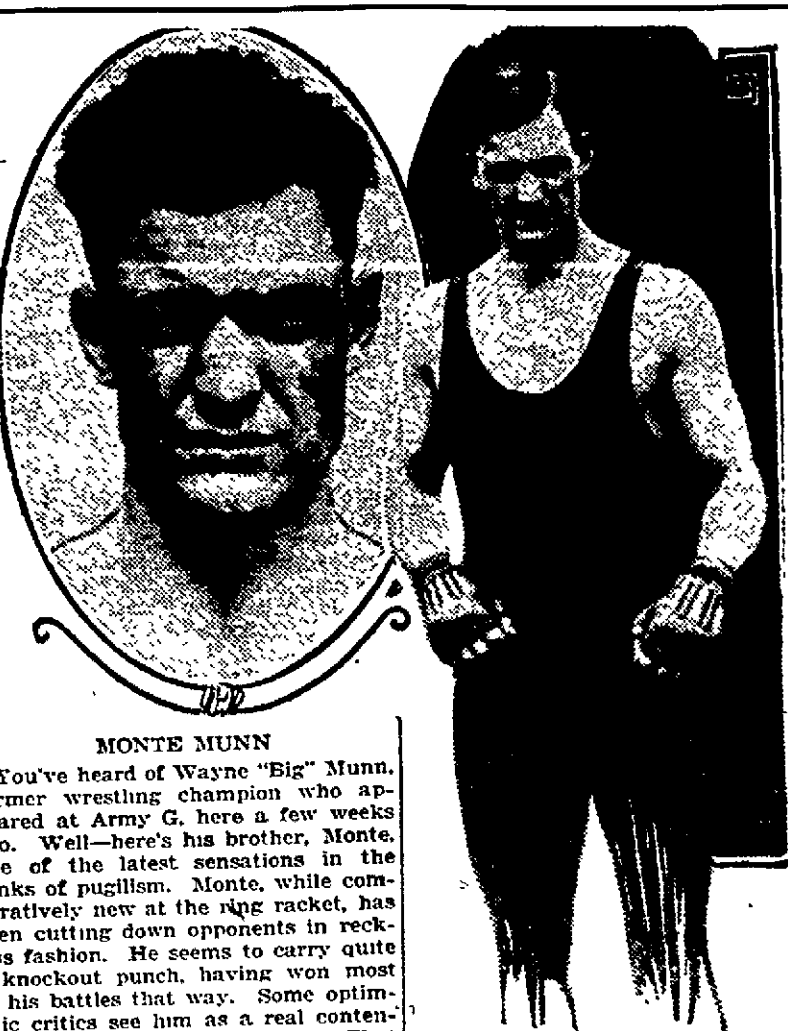

GIANTS PUT BIG CRIMP IN CARDS' ASPIRATIONS

John McFraw's Giants put a terrific crimp in the pennant aspirations of the Cardinals. The Gotham gang won four straight pulling the Missouri team quite a distance away from first position. Hornsby's absence from the line-up hasn't helped the Cards a wit, either.

STEPHENSON CONTINUES TO PICKLE THE PELLET

Riggs Stephenson, former Cleveland, continues to await the agate for the Cubs. Steve has been coming out close to two safeties a day and his work in the field has improved. Too, Riggs, of course, always could hit, but his poor fielding used to hold him on the bench.

LATEST RING SENSATION

MONTE MUNN
You've heard of Wayne "Big" Munn, former wrestling champion who appeared at Army G. here a few weeks ago. Well—here's his brother, Monte, one of the latest sensations in the ranks of pugilism. Monte, while comparatively new at the ring racket, has been cutting down opponents in reckless fashion. He seems to carry quite a knockout punch, having won most of his battles that way.

Some optimistic critics see him as a real contender for the heavyweight crown. That may be a bit far-fetched, of course, but he must at least be given credit for making a good start and that means something.

BREWERS GAME FROM KERNELS; WIN TWO

Milwaukee—Spencer Abbott had the unwilling role of King Neptune in the delightful Brewer pageant of progress at Athletic park Sunday. After being humiliated twice and failing to come up both times he hustled his ball club toward home carrying the sad news of a double setback. The scores were 4 to 1 and 10 to 4, and as the Colonels lost a pair to the Hens the Home Brews are again trailing the top rung by only one game.

JUNIOR LIGHTIE CHAMP HAS FOUGHT 100 BOUTS

Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion has been in the ring racket since 1921. During that time he has engaged in close to 100 battles. Morgan has won most of his victories on points, his boxing ability gaining decisions where his punch wasn't stout enough to put an opponent out. Morgan, in fact, has put but few men to sleep, one of the few being Mike Ballerino, from whom he took the title last year. He's never been knocked out.

Tod comes from the far west. He's 23 and quite popular with the fight fraternity. He recently made his debut before critical eastern fans and got away nicely.

SCHWARZE IS THROUGH AT CARDINAL SCHOOL

Madison —Herbert Schwarze, a former Badger track and football man and holder of the world's indoor shot put title, has definitely abandoned his career at the state university. The giant weight man encountered serious difficulties again last spring along scholastic lines, and will cast his lot in the future with the I. A. C.

Hale's fly permitting Lamar to score from first with the winning run, and Southpaw Witase eased the Browns down with three singles in pitching the Red Sox to a 4-2 victory.

45,000 Ticket Applications Sent Out Monday By U. W.

Madison —(AP)— Tickets to home games on the University of Wisconsin football schedule will be drawn at random to fill applications received during the month of August, which is expected to eliminate the rush for favorite seat locations, common in other years.

Forty-five thousand ticket applications will be mailed Monday from the office of George Lewis, business manager of university athletics and director of ticket sales. It was announced today.

The old penalty system inflicted on those whose applications were received prior to September 1 has been abolished. The blanks may be returned at once and all will receive the same consideration. Seat locations for these applications will be entirely a matter of chance.

Applications received after September 1 will receive the best accommodations possible at the date they arrive at the office. Branch ticket offices in Chicago and Milwaukee have been opened to handle an open sale for the alumni and public after the mail order.

This distribution will open the Tuesday or Wednesday prior to each game. Mail order sale closes ten days before the date of each home game.

Because of the scarcity of seats for Badger fans at the annual Wisconsin Chicago contest last fall, a substantial increase in tickets over the 1925 quota has been provided. The improvements at Stagg Field will increase their seating capacity from 31,500 to 45,000. Sixty per cent of Wisconsin's ticket allotment will be parcelled out to alumni.

Bradley Horses Win Five Derbies On 1926 Schedule

BY ART CARLSON
An E. R. Bradley year!
That's what followers of the famous Kentucky sportsman and owner of the Idle Hour farm were shouting down in Louisville last May just prior to the running of the historic derby at Churchill Downs.
Bradley horses, you'll recall, had already annexed the $10,000 Louisiana Derby at New Orleans, the Preparation purse at Lexington as well as another Lexington trophy.
More than that, the Bradley colors had finished "one-two" in each of the events. Bagenbagg had copped the Louisiana event with Boot to Boot second; Bubbling Over had taken the Preparation with Boot to Boot again second while in the third canter Bagenbagg and Barcelona had passed the judges' stand winner and runner-up respectively.
Three days, three seconds in as many events—small wonder the fans in and around Louisville were calling it a Bradley year.
The boys certainly had the correct dope, too. For the $50,000 Kentucky Derby, turfdom's most colorful race, went to Bubbling Over. There was race romped in second. There was another "one-two" finish.
A few weeks later, Bradley checked in with another "double." This time

A Service That Needs No Explanation

Using a telephone is a perfectly simple and commonplace proceeding nowadays. But the first time that any of us talked over the phone—well we were just a little uncertain. Eating in cafeterias is just as natural to most people as dinner-time. But the first meal that we took in this style of restaurant—many were the uncertainties about just how to get our food.

But the first time that anyone consults the A-B-C Classified Section is just as simple and easy as the hundredth!

And the reason? The Classified Section is built on service principles that are familiar and proved—"1-2-3" and "A-B-C" cataloging of Classifications and all the little ads under each one.

Anyone who can count and spell can find exactly what he or she wants in these columns of helpful ads—and in a minute's time.

EKERN DENIES INDUSTRIES ARE LEAVING STATE

Says Such "Bunk" Was Heard Years Ago; Declares Business Stable

Milwaukee—(AP)—Reports that industries are moving out of Wisconsin were characterized as "false and slanderous" Monday by Attorney General Herman L. Ekern. La Follette-Progressive candidate for governor. His address was given before the Wisconsin association of Optometrists in annual session here.

"Years ago and up to the present," the attorney general said, "there has been much talk from time to time about driving industry and business out of Wisconsin. That is sheer bunk. We had that story when Senator La Follette, then governor, first began his great progressive program that was to make Wisconsin the forward and progressive state that it is today. We have had it every legislative session since the progressives put through new and far-sighted legislation. And yet what do we find?"

"We find industry and commerce and business more stable and sound, more prosperous in Wisconsin than in any other state in the union."

"We have had but a handful of bank failures while our neighboring states have had scores and even hundreds. Our railroads, our insurance companies, our farmers and workers are better taken care of, better paid than in any other state. The corporations and plants that were listed by the reactionary press as businesses that were leaving the state because of progressive legislation, not only have not left the state but have greatly increased their business and enlarged their factories."

"If in the twenty years that all this crying and wailing about progressive legislation has not only not driven out the state business but has improved it, what other evidence is necessary to discredit the false as well as slanderous reactionary charges?"

BLAINE TICKET IS INDORSED BY MRS. LAFOLLETTE

Pledges Full Support to Ekern and Blaine in Fall Election

Madison—(AP)—Mrs. Robert M. La Follette, widow of the late Senator La Follette, Sunday issued a statement endorsing Attorney General Ekern for governor and the other candidates on the La Follette Progressive ticket.

Mrs. La Follette's statement appeared in the form of a signed editorial in "La Follette's Magazine," she said, "of other loyal leaders of the good progressive fight that I speak especially of Mr. Ekern's high qualities of mind and character and of the great personal obligation I feel for the way in which he shared at all times and under all circumstances the heavy load which Mr. La Follette carried throughout a quarter of a century of a political struggle."

"In looking back over those long years there was never a time when he was needed that Herman Ekern was not at Mr. La Follette's side working zealously and giving unselfishly and without stint of his sympathy, energy and time, always identifying himself absolutely with the cause. I know Mr. La Follette found great comfort and based much of his hope for the future on his faith in Herman Ekern's political ideals and devotion to the progressive movement and on his rare fitness and extraordinary preparation in leadership."

"I earnestly commend Zona Gale's conclusions in support of Governor Blaine's candidacy for the United States Senate. I too shall vote for him and give him my best support on the high ground that he is right on the fundamental struggle against special privilege," and because when elected, I believe that on "every important issue his vote will be a vote for the people. As a private citizen, as State Senator, as Attorney General, as Governor, John Blaine's record demonstrates beyond question that he has the honesty, courage, ability, understanding and power to serve the public interest and to withstand the pressure of special privilege."

"I shall vote for and give my best support to Herman Ekern for governor. First of all, because I believe him to be a true servant of the public interest and because his record as private citizen, as speaker of the Wisconsin Assembly, as State Insurance commissioner, and as attorney general, proves that he is an outstanding, able, unimpeachable of organized wealth."

Record Fish Catches Are Interesting, Yet Amusing

BY B. A. CLAFLIN

Speaking of record catches, it is quite amusing, when roaming from one locality to another to listen to local tales of monsters caught by "Bill" or "Hank" or some other local celebrity. Occasionally a real fish is taken, but usually lack of interest on the part of the lucky fisherman prevents any proof being recorded in the way of picture of statement so that all you get is the story told you by the first native you meet and, as each newcomer arrives and the tale is retold, the fish grows in size until the matter becomes a joke and what ever truth there really was in the incident is lost.

Fortunately, however, the actual facts of certain catches, either by personal observation of the fish shortly after its capture, or later in a mounted state, and once by duly recorded life size picture, have been secured. Some time ago a "munkie" was weighed a day after its capture and it tipped the scale at 42 pounds. When taken from the water this fish must have weighed close to 50 pounds. Also I have in my collection a bona fide picture of another which weighed 61 pounds. This fish was caught in Pelican lake, as was the first mentioned.

There is a mountain Rainbow trout on exhibition at Pete Vigeant's store at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., which weighed 17 pounds. Mr. Vigeant landed this fish on a fly in the "Soo" rapids. This is not so remarkable, however, as the mounted Speckled beauty in Von Lengercke and Antoine's store, Chicago. This fish weighed 14 pounds. It was taken in the Neplgon river, Canada.

Another record fish, a Small Mouth bass, was taken in Mendota lake, near Madison, during a snow storm. It weighed 10 pounds and some ounces over. We have seen the life size photo of this fish at Madison bearing the seal of the Secretary of State and his affidavit as to the size.

The largest Large Mouth bass on record was taken June 15, 1924, in Moody lake, Pasco-co, Fla. This fish was captured on a Number 700 Creek Chub Pike lure, and weighed 20 pounds and 2 ounces, and measured 31 inches in length.

Experienced fishermen know that these wary old monsters are hard to fool and, when one is taken, it is done partly by skill, and mostly by the use of the proper lure. There are plenty of these record breakers in our waters and they can be taken with the proper lures.

We just returned from a successful trip, on which we made a fine

MODERN BRIDE IS GOOD COOK

Seeks to Give Husband Kind of Food That Will Make Him Forget Mother's

Madison—(AP)—Contrary to pictures of "flapper brides" and stories of the frivolity of young people, the modern bride wants to give her husband the kind of food that will make him forget his mother's.

This was the declaration of Mrs. Katherine Delaney, chairman of the home service committee of gas and electric companies in Wisconsin. Her conclusion was reached, she said, after studying a large number of question submitted to home service workers by young married people.

"Frits of the girls," she said, "and slickly oiled hair of the young men are merely the froth on the substantial characters of modern young people. The blushing bride of yesterday has given away to the more capable bride of 1926."

"Most of the requests for cooking information received by the various home service directories concern the more inexpensive and nutritive dishes. The new brides are prescient in their quests for real good bread recipes and nearly always ask for information concerning some kind of cake that their husbands must be particularly fond of."

"It is particularly noteworthy to tabulate the fact that the cheaper dishes are in demand, for it proves without doubt, that the young couple is striving to get along on their $1,800 or $2,000 yearly income. Much of the talk about the frivolity of the younger generation seems foolish when such facts are brought out."
